

Human Trafficking Prevention Education and Training

Trapped...

Every day children are lured into the dark reality of modern-day slavery.

Paving the Way Foundation is a fierce disruption in the cycle of child trafficking through educational and training programs. We've educated over 10,000 youth and adults over the past two and half years about the tactics used to groom and recruit children and most importantly what they can do to prevent it!

Educate. Empower. Prevent.

Education that Empowers and Prevents

Our education does more than educate about human trafficking, it saves lives by creating connection, decreasing isolation and interrupting the 'by stander' affect. In order to 'report' something suspicious or share a concern about another student they have to be paying attention to the environment, to those around them and trusting their instincts vs. being pulled in by media or social pressure.

Our EMPOWER© program consists of 2 90-minute classes where students learn what human trafficking is, recruitment/grooming tactics and what actions to take to prevent it from happening. We save lives!

60% of students shared what they learned with a parent or friends

* 38% walked away from a potentially dangerous situation

* 19% Stopped bullying online

Education that makes an impact

"One day our 13-year-old son came home from school and told us that he attended a presentation about human trafficking. He now understood all the warnings we had given him previously about social media and gaming. The program reinforced the information we had provided him at home and provided him a deeper understanding. This program is invaluable for all of our young people It should absolutely be in all our schools. Thank you! Alyson - Attorney and mom
